

Position Available

The University of Georgia

College of Public Health

Professor or Associate Professor of Global Health

The Global Health Institute (GHI) within the University of Georgia (UGA) College of Public Health (CPH) welcomes nominations and applications for a faculty position at the rank of Professor or Associate Professor with tenure. The applicant must have maintained research programs in global health with extramural funding and demonstrate long-term affiliations with international academic institutions, health organizations, and/or other foundations involved in global public health. A doctoral degree is required, either a PhD in public health or global health, or in a health-related field, or in a biomedical discipline. Holders of a DrPH, MD, DO or DVM are also eligible if they have a minimum of five years experience in at least one of the five core public health disciplines: biostatistics, environmental health, epidemiology, health promotion and behavior or health policy and management.

Applicants must also demonstrate successful scholarship, instruction and leadership in their field. Accomplishments to be considered include sustained research in global health, global health field projects, mature international research collaborations, publications in prominent scientific journals, and mentorship of graduate students and early career faculty in global health. Candidates must be approved for tenure upon appointment before hire. (To review UGA's Promotion and Tenure guidelines see <https://provost.uga.edu/policies/appointment-promotion-and-tenure/>).

Applicants should submit the following: (a) a letter of application specifically responsive to the position's responsibilities and required and preferred qualifications as described, (b) a complete resume or curriculum vitae, (c) the names, addresses, email and telephone numbers of four references (who will not be contacted without further correspondence with the applicant). For the complete posting and to apply online visit <http://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/128243>. Nominations and requests for information should be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Mark Ebell, 706-542-1585 or ebell@uga.edu. Review of applications will begin January 15, 2020, and the search will remain open until the position is filled. The expected start date is August 2020. UGA is an EEO/AA/M/F/Vet/Disability Employer.